Knights of Pythias Organized Thursday

Golden Jubilee Lodge No. 35 of the Grand Domain of Alberta Knights of Pythias was duly organized in Gleichen last Thursday night, Feb. 19th.

The name of the Gleichen lodge was chosen—Golden Jubilee—for the reason that just fifty years previous to that same night the first lodge of the Knights of Pythias was organized by five brave and cautious men.

While in that fifty years more than 800,000 had joined the lodge Gleichen added as charter members 36 more to the roll. A number of old members from long standing lodges readily joined here as charter members, and it is fully expected that the 100 mark will be reached in a year by Golden Jubilee.

It was hoped that a degree team could be obtained to put on the work here for the opening night, but it was found impossible to get a team to leave their own Castle Hall on such a memorable night as the fiftieth anniversary—as one stated it was like being away from home at Christmas.

The old members located here took up the work and those 22 who rode the Pythian goat that night are unanimous in stating that it was a ride they will never forget so long as they remain in this world. They one and all claim that they will in future be cautious of the promises they make and will ever be ready to jump into duty the moment they are commanded in knightlyhood. Each one rose from the rank of strangers to pages, with much earnestness, then with the greatest seriousness on to esquires.

But before being allowed to proceed they were banquetted sumptuously and then passed with honors on to knights.

The initiation over a few were called upon to express their views of the ceremonies they had passed through and as one stated, "I think it the most solemn ceremony I ever witnessed and yet looking back there are some of the most amusing incidents I have ever heard of. We laugh, we cry, we were tested and tried and given lessons we can never forget."

Another said, "I believe we should have some such lessons and tests before we are allowed to become church members. It is too easy to get into membership in our church and if the obligations of our churches were shown us so clearly we would think more of them and observe them more closely."

The election of officers being taken up the following were selected:

G. H. Farguharson, C.C.
A. N. Lindsay, V. C.
T. E. Thomson, Prelate.
G. Wade, K. of R. S. and M. of F.

M. A. McLeod, M. of E.
J. C. Wainwright, M. of W.
W. P. Evans, I. G.
Frank Scott, O. G.

Past Chancellors: J. C. Wainwright, Guy Wade, M. A. McLeod and T. H. Thomson.

Representatives to Grand Lodge: J. C. Wainwright, Guy Wade, alternates M. A. McLeod and T. H. Thomson.

This business occupied until after 3 a. m. and the meeting was adjourned until the following night, when several more candidates were initiated and the work of organization completed.

Before adjourning an unanimous hearty vote of thanks was passed in favor of organizer E. C. Payne, C. D. G. C., of Claresholm, congratulating him on the grand success of his first effort at organizing, thanking him for the efficient manner in which he had conducted the business and wishing him all things good and expressing the hope that he would soon visit Gleichen again.

Another motion was tendered Bro. Wainwright for the splendid work he had accomplished in obtaining charter members and for the general good he had accomplished for Golden Jubilee lodge.

On Saturday a number of the brethren met at the station to see Brother Payne off and gave him an unexpected degree on the platform just as the train started off.

The story on which the Knights of Pythias is founded is a beautiful one. It is the friendship of Damon and Pythias in ancient Greece. Damon a senator of Syracuse, had incurred the displeasure of Dionysius, a tyrant, and was under sentence of death. Pythias was his true friend and knowing Damon's love of home begged the tyrant to allow him to go and see his wife and child before he died and offered to take Damon's place in chains and dungeon until he returned and the request was granted. When Damon reaches home his wife implores him to escape with her but he is steadfast to his promises and arrives back to prison just as Pythias is about to be executed and is proclaiming his fidelity. At such strange friendship the tyrant marvels and allows both their freedom.

F. A. Williams Wins Flax Seed Prize

There was a great deal of interest taken in the Provincial Seed Fair held in Calgary last week and while several from this district competed, few won prizes, in fact it is stated that it was a most difficult problem for the judges to award the prizes. Most of the prizes went to the McLeod district, where a dry season had been ideal for hardening grain. F. A. Williams, of Gleichen, won third prize in flax, Worthington & Sons, of Strathmore, fifth in winter wheat and second in peas. Mr. Williams states he finds it most profitable to exhibit, and cites as an example that he has already disposed of 200 bushels as seed for which he obtained $2 per bushel. It is interesting in connection with this to note that he obtained 15 bushels per acre, it being the second crop of flax in two years off the same land. He also holds the record for flax yield, getting 29.3 bu. a couple years ago.

Eudor Brosseau is in Drumheller on a business trip.

Gleichen a Railway Junction Track Laid to Here Monday

Monday the track-laying machine of the C. P. R., placed its last steel rail on the Gleichen-Sheppard cut-off under the direction of Foreman E. G. Law.

Early that morning the machine with its locomotive and long line of cars carrying the rails, ties, and full equipment was sighted about two miles west of Gleichen, and citizens were heard to remark that they would go out in the afternoon and have a look at the work, but before 10 o'clock word passed around that at the rate the train was advancing on Gleichen it would be necessary to rush to have a peep at the machine in action, and a good crowd of townspeople were soon at the scene.

To their amazement at 11.15 the last tie and rail shot out ahead of the machine just a few yards west of the switch where the new railway unites with the main line, and the whistle gave a long blast announcing that the work was complete.

Thus Gleichen becomes a JUNCTION! This new railway is really part of the system the C. P. R. has in undertaking to double track and shorten the main line from Winnipeg to Calgary. It also opens up an exceptionally fine section of country and puts it in touch with Gleichen.

It will still take sometime before the new road will be in condition for regular use as there is still a great amount of adjusting to be done and it may be next fall before a regular service is inaugurated.

Starting next Monday, school will begin at 9 o'clock each morning.

Yesterday being Ash Wednesday, was observed as a holiday by the school.

A skating party Tuesday evening was much enjoyed by a number of young people.

Mrs. Farguharson and baby are at home, having come down from Calgary Friday.

A good example every day is far better than a sermon every Sunday, especially if you don't hear the sermon.

Good home cooking and clean, comfortable rooms can be had at Mrs. J. M. Follette's. Reasonable rates.

Robt. Rowe, of the firm of Rowe, Rowe & Rowe left yesterday for Medicine Hat on business connected with the firm.

Tonight (Thursday) will be literary evening at the Methodist church. An interesting program has been prepared. All are invited.

We regret that our weather man has been ill for a couple of weeks past and has been unable to supply his daily reports. We are pleased, however, to say Mr. Jowett is now recovering and hope he will not miss any more of this fine weather.

Mrs. Jacob Roueche returned last Saturday from Calgary where she spent some weeks in a hospital. She has considerably improved but is still quite weak, and her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Friday evening, March 6th, a masquerade ball is to be given in Johnston's hall at Namaka when a big time is expected. Valuable prizes will be awarded for the best lady's and gentleman's fancy costumes and also for the most comic costumes. Good music is promised and gentlemen will be charged $1.50 supper included, while the ladies will be admitted free. All are cordially invited to go and enjoy themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Runk, who disposed of all their stock and farming machinery last fall and rented their farm at Glenview for three years, returned to Gleichen last week and intend taking up residence on their farm again. As they expressed it, "They found no place like Alberta," especially Gleichen district. This is proven by the fact that they went away for three years and stayed only six months. They went from here to the coast, and thence to the middle western States.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Bollinger and family returned a week ago from a visit to their former home in Tennessee, and were delighted to get back to Sunny Alberta. Mr. Bollinger said that while it was cold the morning he arrived in Gleichen, it was an improvement on the weather he saw in Dakota, Manitoba, and Saskatchewan. In discussing his trip, he said that he was pleased to see his former friends in Tennessee, yet more pleased to return to Gleichen. He is satisfied that he could do no better anywhere and admits that he has made a good success of farming in this district, although he is not yet satisfied with the irrigation problem.

Chris Anderson, with his wife and family returned last Thursday from an extended visit to their parents' home in Denmark, bringing with them Chris Larsen and wife and several other friends from the Old World. Mr. Anderson is a good booster for Alberta, and has backed up his words by bringing his friends and relatives here, and it is understood others will follow later.

Chief J. Roberts spent several days last week attending court at Calgary as a witness in the case of Mayes and Adams. As the two men did not appear, a warrant was issued for their arrest, but it is understood that they have left the country, so this will probably be the end of the case.

Mrs. E. E. Holland entertained her Sunday School class last Thursday evening at her home on Gleichen avenue. The youngsters report a fine time, with games, contests, and delicious refreshments. Those present were: Walter Laycock, Edwin Service, Lorne Leggat, Roy Wishart, Rachel Koeford, Florence Bragg.

J. A. N. MacDonald of Lacombe visited his many former friends in Gleichen last week. Mr. MacDonald was seven years ago foreman on the C. P. I. C. Co. demonstration farm and later visited here frequently as forestry inspector from the Indian Head dominion experimental farm.

How is the weather out toward Hammer Hill? Let us hear from that corner of the district. Also any other communities from which we are not printing news regularly.

Among those from Gleichen who are attending the I. H. C. training school in Calgary this week are Guy Wade, G. T. Jones and son, and Russell Mills.

Fire Brigade Elect Their Officers

At a meeting held at the Town Hall Saturday evening, the Fire Brigade was re-organized, and the following were selected for duty:

Vice Chief, E. Wagstaffe
Captain No. 1, William Service.
2nd Man, M. Lee.

Heartly thanks were accorded to Charles Marshall for his services as chief of the brigade.

The firemen are requested to observe the above selections carefully, so that, in case of fire, there shall be no confusion.

—T. Woodland, Sec.

Are the Women of Gleichen Friendly?

[Communicated]

"Back East," remarks a resident of Gleichen, "We heard a good deal about Western hospitality, and how welcome newcomers always were made to feel. And it holds true too—so far as the men are concerned. But with the women it seems so different. We have just heard of a lady who has been here several months, and during that time has had only one visitor. We know of another lady who has had practically no callers in a year or more except a couple ladies soliciting for a benevolent cause."

Now, we don't pretend to know the first thing about things feminine and the last topic we would butt into should be this very subject. But it does seem that many a Gleichen woman has become wrapped up in her own circle of friends and has sadly neglected most newcomers.

We are sure that this little reminder will be enough to start the ladies thinking, and that a number of them will at least make a call on the here-to-fore "strangers in our gates."

—A Mere Man.

Lent begins today.

FARMING IN ENGLAND

Lloyd George's Big Task in the Back to the Land Movement

The necessity of the efforts of Lloyd George to get the people back on the land is manifest in recent English agricultural statistics. While it is too early to trace any results from the Chancellor's measures everyone will pray for their success who reads that this year's decrease in total area under crops and grass in England and Wales is 46,307 acres. The decline in arable land amounts to 277,000 acres, most of which was transferred to permanent pasture, and the latter now for the first time surpasses 16,000,000 acres. Wheat shows a decline of 162,000 acres, oats decreased by 98,000 acres, while barley increased 102,000 acres. Potatoes declined by 21,000 and mangolds by 66,000 acres. Clover and grasses under rotation fell off by 27,000 acres, but the area reserved for hay shows an increase of 273,730 acres. The live stock returns show decreases among all classes of animals; cattle decreased by 124,776, but there are increases of cows in calf and of other cattle of two years and above. The total number of cows, 2,264,403, is about the same as in 1905. Sheep have declined by over 900,000, while the swine decrease is nearly 16 per cent, the total being somewhat more than in 1901.

When the deputation from the Canadian Council of Agriculture waited on Premier Borden a few weeks ago they expressed alarm at the depopulation of rural districts in Canada. They called on the Government to wipe out the tariff to which they attributed the decline in agricultural production, with consequent high cost of living. A study of the foregoing figures from Free Trade England discloses the fallacy of the deputation's argument. The movement to urban centres, the high cost of living and other economic problems are common to the whole world. The tariff has little or nothing to do with them otherwise we would have perfect farming conditions in Great Britain. What is wanted in Canada is some constructive proposals. That is what Lloyd George has given England and our Canadian farmers will make better progress in solving the problems of the body politic when they suggest and support practical plans for agricultural betterment instead of denouncing in heated language other classes in the community who under a policy that has proven itself over a thirty year period are doing their share in the building up of the country.

J. B. Leggat was elected councillor, Monday, vice F. K. McKay.

The Hard Times ball next Friday evening, March 6th, promises to be a good success and plenty of amusement is expected.

Murdoch A. McLeod was the happiest man in Gleichen Monday morning, February 23rd, as Mrs. presented him with a fine McLeod daughter. All are doing well.

If Winter can hang on until Friday evening, the long expected Bassano-Gleichen hockey game will be pulled off on the local rink. Caretaker Vigar is saying chilling things and working hard to get a good sheet of ice, Manager Gibson is putting the players through some stiff practices, and Bassano may be skrimishing the country for players—so all in all its bound to be a good game and a big crowd will be there to see the rivals of old.

If you know of a news item, let us hear about it. We endeavor to print all the news, and are glad to have your assistance. No. 12, if you have a phone; postoffice drawer 13, if you write; or Call office, corner of Gleichen street and Fourth avenue.

Dusting by Compressed Air

Compressed air has superseded steam as the motive power for driving rock drills on many of the large excavating jobs in the city. The men who direct the operation of the air drills and the men who work in the trenches have discovered a new use for the compressed air after the day's work is done.

The powerful trills pulverize a large amount of rock and the dust is wafted all over the vicinity in which the drilling is being done. The men's clothes become covered with a layer of the pulverized rock, which is extremely difficult to remove by ordinary methods.

The problem of removal of this fine rock dust vexed the men until one of them found the solution by removing the end of the hose which carries the compressed air to a drill and directing the powerful air current on his dust covered clothes.

$25.00 FOR A LETTER

Can You Write One?

Thirteen Prizes to be Awarded in a Letter Writing Competition

Some years ago the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., offered a series of prizes to residents of the Western Provinces for the best letters describing cures wrought by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of letters were submitted in this competition and yet there must have been thousands of other users of the pills who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to win a prize. To all these and other letter writing competition is offered. Thousands of cures through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have never been reported. These will furnish the material for the letter to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination; every letter must deal with facts and facts only.

THE PRIZES:

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., will award a prize of $25.00 for the best letter received on or before the 1st day of March, 1914, from residents of the Western provinces, on the subject "Why I Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $10.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received; a prize of $5.00 for the third best letter, and ten prizes of $2.00 each for the next best ten letters.

THE CONDITIONS:

The cure or benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills described in the letter may be in the writer's own case, or one that has come under his or her personal observation.

More than one cure may be described in the letter, but every statement must be literary and absolutely true. Every letter must be signed by the full name and correct address of the person sending it. If it describes the cure of some person other than the writer of the letter, it must also be signed by the person whose cure is described as a guarantee of the truth of the statement made.

The writer of each letter must state the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw this announcement. Fine writing will not win the prize unless you have a good case to describe. The strength of the recommendation and not the style of the letter will be the basis of the award.

It is understood that The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. shall have the right to publish any letter entered in this contest if they desire to do so whether it wins a prize or not.

The contest will close on March 1st, 1914, and the prizes will be awarded as soon as possible thereafter. Do not delay. If you know of a cure write your letter NOW. Observe the above conditions carefully or your letter may be thrown out.

Address all letters as follows: The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Letter Contest Department.

Your former husband must still love you. Why? He tells me that he owes a great deal to you. He's referring to the back ailment.

CANADA FIFTY YEARS HENCE

A New Organization That is Now Working for the Common Welfare of People of Canada

What will Canada be like fifty years hence? Well, that depends upon what we do within the next five years. Did you ever think how fast we are travelling? Fifty years ago, yes, even twenty-five years ago, we had a very simple life in Canada. Think back to the old Homestead days when our grandfathers went back into the wilds and cleared a few acres and built a home and raised a big family and lived in love and charity with their neighbors. It was a hard life but a happy one. People generally were industrious and each man reaped the reward of his own labors. There was a wholesome home life—a spirit of neighborliness and deep religious conviction.

But now all is changed. Thousands are moving from the country into the cities. There the old home life is almost a thing of the past. No one knows his next door neighbor. The old kindly relationships are fast disappearing in the rush and conflict of industrial life. Even religion, as our grandfathers knew it, is rarely found and then seems quite out of place in our modern life. Rural life itself is experiencing tremendous changes. A farmer of fifty years ago, if transported to the modern farm, would feel very much like Rip Van Winkle and rub his eyes in astonishment or cover up his hands in dismay.

Well, what does it all mean? Where are we heading? We are making progress, never fear, but we are making new trails through an unknown land. We mustn't lose our heads!

There has recently come into existence a new organization known as the Canadian Welfare League. On its council are representative men and women from all parts of Canada. It is of great interest that men from various countries, of various religious beliefs and political parties and business interests are uniting in promoting the public welfare.

The purpose of the league is:

1. To promote a general interest in all forms of social welfare.
2. To make a practical study of Canada's emergent social problems caused by our large and heterogeneous immigration; by the rapid growth of our cities and the stagnation of some of our rural districts; by the beginnings of industrialism and generally our entrance into a fuller national life.
3. To organize the community to federate or otherwise organize for co-operative work, existing social institutions so that each may give to the community more effective service.
4. To enlist our citizens in personal services for the common welfare.
5. To provide trained leadership for social work.

There are five departments:

1. A social service clearing house.
2. A lecture and publicity bureau.
3. Immigration work.
4. Community work.
5. Organized philanthropy.

The community work is of special interest to those living in small towns or in the country.

Many a community is merely a heterogeneous aggregation with little coherence, and no active unifying principle at work. Often, the majority are strangers from various parts of the world. Each has brought with him his own peculiar ideas and customs which are often quite foreign to those of all the others. Industrially the population ranges itself in antagonistic groups. The churches are numerous, but religion, instead of being a unifying spirit, is often the most divisive force in the community. In matters of public policy there is hopeless division along party lines.

Yet in many communities of this character, "Get together" movements have been instituted, social centres established, and co-operation substituted for competition—Result, good fellowship and efficiency. We can tell you of experiments that have been tried out elsewhere with success. Perhaps as a disinterested agency we might personally help in getting things started.

If you are interested in the welfare of your community look out for an article next week. If you want further information write the secretary J. S. Woodworth, Room 10, Industrial Bureau, Winnipeg.

To Asthma Sufferers. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy comes like a helping hand to a sinking swimmer. It gives new life and hope by curing the trouble something that has come to believe impossible. Its benefit is too evident to be questioned—it is its own best argument. If you suffer from asthma get this time-tried remedy, and help like thousands of others.

Home is Where the Goggles Are. I hear, said Griggs, that the Wheelers have actually sold their home to buy an automobile. Oh, that's all right, said Griggs, they're out in it so much they don't need a home.

Added Zeal. Madge—I never thought you were the kind of girl who would take pleasure in listening to a divorce case. Marjorie—But, my dear, I happened to know the correspondent.

Shiloh The family remedy for Coughs and Colds. Small dose. Small bottle. Best since 1870.

The Exception. First married man—Is there ever an occasion when everything at your dinner table is stone-cold? Second married man—No, not everything. We always manage to have a heated argument.

They had just renewed their acquaintance after five years. "Pon my word, Miss Weatherby, he said frankly, I should hardly have known you, you have altered so much. For the better or for the worse?" she asked with an arch look. "Ab, my dear girl, he said gallantly, you could only charge for the better!"

Pleurisy Pains Vanish! Chest Colds Cured!

NERVILINE HAS NEVER FAILED TO CURE

Don't suffer! Nerviline is your relief. Nerviline just rubbed on, lots of it, will ease that drawn, tight feeling over your ribs will destroy the pain, will have you smiling and happy in no time.

"I caught cold last week while mowing," writes P. T. Mallory, from Linden. "My chest was full of congestion, my throat was nearly sore, and I had the fiercest, litch in my side you could imagine. As a boy I was accustomed to have my mother use Nerviline for all our minor ailments, and remembering what confidence she had in Nerviline, I sent out for a bottle. A once. Between noon and eight o'clock I had a whole bottle rubbed on, and then got into a perspiration under the blankets. This drove the Nerviline in good and deep, and I woke up next morning fresh as a dollar and absolutely cured. Nerviline is now always part of my traveling kit, and I will never be without it."

The large 50c. family size bottle is the most economical or you can easily get the 25c. trial size from any dealer.

His Choice. McMaisters was at business. He was walking with a beautiful girl in a wild New England wood. What is your favorite flower, Mr. McMaisters? the girl asked softly. McMaister thought a moment, then cleared his throat and answered: Well, I believe I like the whole wheat best.

It Sounded Like It. A young girl from a country town went to a city boarding school, much against the wishes of her father, who thought she would be spoiled by city ways.

Soon she wrote in one of her letters: I am in love with ping-pong. The mother read the letter aloud to her father, who turned angrily upon her, saying: Well, you see I was right. I knew no good would come of her going to the city. Now, you see she has got in with one of those damned Chinamen.

Artistry. Clubber—Mr. and Mrs. Del Reno are in the lower box over there. Have they made up again? Rubber (using his glasses)—She has, at any rate.

Transient. They tell me you've lost your hired man. Sho! What wuz th' matter? Nothing, John's a German, you know, and those here Germans hev what they call the wanderlust. It is something that keeps 'em movin' from one place to 'other, an' don't let 'em stay long anywheres. How long had John been with you? Only eleven years.

You have such strange speaking terms over here, said an Englishman traveling in America. The other night I was in a sleeping car, in an upper berth, and a man in the lower berth said to me: Look out, here. Of course I did look out, and oh, how I regretted it.

TROUBLE WITH THE EYES

The effects of low vitality on the eyesight are little understood, or fewer people would rush to the optician when trouble comes, instead of first trying to get the nervous system into good condition.

When the nerves become exhausted, about the first indication is weakness of the optic nerve, and consequent eye trouble and nervous headaches. The strain on the optic nerve, in continually adjusting and focusing the lens of the eye is enormous, and when the nervous force in the body is diminished the trouble is first felt in the sight and by severe headaches.

By forming new, red corpuscles in the blood, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and instills new vitality into the optic nerve, as well as the other nerves of the body. Headache is not merely relieved, but the cause is removed. Sight improves, and instead of the annoyance and makeshift practice of wearing glasses, the eyes are strengthened and the general health improved in every way.

Bah! Judge—And you mean to say that you opened the pen and stole those sheep and didn't know a thing about it? Why man, where were your wits? Culprit—I don't know, your honor. They must have been wool-gathering.

She Didn't Want It. A playwright of my acquaintance sat in the front row of a first night of a new piece of his own. The play was a complete failure. As my friend sat pale and sad, amid the hisses, a woman sitting behind him leant forward and said:

Excuse me, sir; but, knowing you to be the author of this play, I took the liberty, at the beginning of the performance of snipping off a lock of your hair. Allow me to return it to you.

Ex-lamazing Sport. First tourist abroad—He, ha, ha! This is worth all the time, money and bother I have spent over here! Second ditto—How's that? First tourist—I deliberately kissed the little servant maid with the worst eyes I in town looking on. There she is over there telling my wife about it, and the old lady can't understand a word of the language.

Very One. Everyone has some secret sorrow, said the philopsonic friend. Yes, even the fattest and jolliest of us has a skeleton in his midst.

SHOWS CANADA'S WEALTH

C.P.R. Natural Resources Department Opens Exhibit

An excellent guide to the natural wealth of Eastern and Western Canada is afforded by the exhibit of the Land Branch of the Natural Resources Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which has just been formally opened in the Windsor station building, at Montreal. The exhibit, of which Mr. E. J. Martin is in charge, consists of samples of grain, fruit, wood, game and so on, as well as many other features of interest well to the prospective settler as to the student of Canada.

A large part of the exhibit was shown at Chicago, and other parts of the United States, but is now completely remodeled. Montreal, where the collection will be on view to the public until the opening of the Panama Pacific Exposition at San Francisco next year. Among the models, which are of particular interest, are those of the C.P.R. demonstration farms at Stratimora, where instruction is given to the farmers. A relief map of the irrigation area is also of value, the plan for the improvement of the land being clearly shown. The area is over three times as large as any other in the continent, extending from Medicine Hat on the east to Calgary on the west. The western section has already been sold, this comprising about 1,000,000 acres, while the remainder, about 2,000,000 acres, will be placed on the market shortly. The amount sold to each settler varies from 80 acres to two sections, one-twentieth of the price being paid in cash. The company also lends the farmer a sum of $2,000 for improvements on the 20 year policy, and after he has been on the land 12 months another $1,000 for the purchase of stock.

One of the exhibits shows the evolution of a loaf of bread, the various stages from the virgin prairie to the wheat and flour and finally the bread being given. Tobacco leaf and the finished cigars from British Columbia are also shown, the tobacco being grown at Kelowna.

Attention is also devoted to the resources of Eastern Canada, a very fine exhibit of fish and minerals being shown, while many of the big game specimens in the centre of the room are also common to the east. Of the fish, which are attractively mounted in a case at the end of the hall, are specimens of trout, bass, pickerel and pike. Among the minerals shown are copper, iron, silver and lead. There are also some very fine pieces of ore or mineral in stone and black marble. The wealth of the east in asbestos is demonstrated by a number of excellent samples.

The Western Canada mineral exhibit includes zinc, gold and silver and silver and lead. There is coal from Alberta, including many kinds from the soft to the anthracite. Alberta is also represented by an excellent exhibit of grains, including wheat, oats, barley, flax and rye. One of the cases shows a sample of Premont flax, which won the first prize in competition against the world at the Dry Farming Congress at Lethbridge. The yield was 28 bushels to the acre. There is also a large exhibit of alfalfa which is regarded as the coming crop of Alberta. The alfalfa shown is the second crop in the one season.

The big game exhibit, which occupies the central portion of the hall, consists of fine specimens of moose, deer, black and grey bear, wolves and caribou. One moose head has a spread of 74 inches across the horns. Among other specimens of the natural resources of the Dominion shown is a sample of oil from Calgary. There is also a lot of natural gas from Medicine Hat, which gas is supplied to the residents of the western town at the unusually low rate of 5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

On Whom was the Joke? It was the first of April. Mamma! Mamma! can't a piping treble, come quick! there's a strange man in the living-room kissing the waitress. The mother made a hurried start, but was halted by her gay little son, who cried exultingly: April Fool! It's only Papa!

Trouble Assured. What are you going to call the new baby? Reginald Claude, replied Mr. Bilgins. Isn't "Reginald Claude" a rather affected name? Yes, I want him to grow up to be a fighter, and I fancy that "Reginald Claude" will start something every time he goes to a new school.

A Difference. Little Slater—Hello, Charley! What are you doing away from your lessons? Charley—Gee, mamma the slip. Little Slater—Yes, but she's going to get even. I just heard her say she was going to give you the slipper.

HACKING COUGH OF TWO MONTHS STANDING

Cured by Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne. You know how hard it is to get rid of a cough that has hung on for even two weeks, let alone two months. So you will appreciate what Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne did for Mr. Patrick Holland, of East Baltic, P. M. I. He says:

"I suffered from a hacking cough for over two months. I tried several remedies, but they failed to cure me. At last I tried Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne, and got such relief that I tried more, and after such three bottles was absolutely cured." The unique, scientific combination of three such reliable remedies makes Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne the best preparation that has ever been offered for all sorts of colds and coughs. It was the opening of the winter season and the teacher was making up her list of pupils. Well, my boy, she said to one youth, what is your name? Tom, ma'am, said the boy promptly.

That does not sound well, she said, you should always give the full name. You should have said "Thomas." And what is your name? she asked turning to the next boy. Flushed with the consciousness of having learned something new the youth arose and said proudly: My name is Jackas.

Why the Judge was Powerless. The jury, after long deliberation, seemed unable to agree in a perfectly clear case. The judge, thoroughly exasperated at the delay, said: I discharge this jury.

One sensitive juror, indignant at what he considered a rebuke, faced the judge.

You can't discharge me! he said, with a tone of conviction.

And why not? inquired the judge in surprise.

Because, announced the juror, pointing to the lawyer for the defense, I was hired by that man there!

The Best Thing she Could Do. A young lady called out day on Rushmore, the great pianist, who had consented to attend to her playing.

What do you think I should do now? she asked, who she had finished. Get married, was Rubinstein's answer.

We cannot all be rich who dwell Upon this mundane place, But, just the same, a smile fits well Or almost any face.

His Toast. At the close of the wedding breakfast a gentleman, noted for his lack of tact arose, causing keen anxiety to the bridegroom who knew his falling. Ladies and gentlemen? he cried genially, I propose the health of the bridegroom. May he see many days like this.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Gentlemen—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT from time to time for the past twenty years. It was recommended to me by a prominent physician of Montreal, who called it the "great Nova Scotia Liniment." It does the doctor's work; it is particularly good in cases of Rheumatism and Sprains.

Yours truly, G. G. DUSTAN, Chartered Accountant, Halifax, N.S., Sept. 21, 1905.

Force of Habit. Something I can do for you sir? said the floor-walker to a man anxiously looking up and down, every aisle. Well, as answered the man; I seem to have lost my wife. Third floor, third side, said the floor-walker; you'll find a full line of mourning goods there.

It is a Liver Pill.—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Pirmelle's Vegetable Pills. Their operation though gentle is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

Cough. Lady—It must have been a very tender-hearted cat that killed that lamb you sold me yesterday. Butcher—Why?

Lady—He must have hesitated three or four years before striking the fatal blow.

A Teacher or Teacher. Mamma—So you want to give your teacher a present? Bessie—Yes, ma, I'd like to give her some of that candy I had the other day.

Mamma—Why, that was what made you so ill. Bessie—Yes, ma, know it was.

Who Was Good. Mamma tells me you have not been spanked all day, Jane, said the father upon his return home. So ye, have been a good little girl all day. It isn't that. It is Mother who has been angelic all day.

To Measure Coal in a Bin. A solid cubic foot of anthracite coal weighs about 35 pounds. When broken for use it weighs about 54 pounds. Bitum. coal, when broken up for use, weighs about 50 pounds. The consequent rule for the approximate measurement of coal in a bin or box is to multiply the length in feet by the height in feet and again by the breadth in feet, and this result by 54 for anthracite coal, or by 50 for bituminous coal. The result will equal the number of tons divided by 2000.

She Was Consistent. A woman was in a law court when she was asked her age, and answered: Thirty-five.

But, objected the Judge, you were before me two years ago, and you said then that you were thirty-five. Your Honor, she softly replied, I am no one who would say or thing at one time and another thing at another time.

What He Did. Grace—I told him he must not see me any more. Her brother—Well, what did he do? Grace—Turned out the light!

A Novel Idea. And when I finish my career I shall become an aviator. Why do you wish to risk such danger, having such brilliant future? Why, so as to rise all the quicker!

TO HAVE SYSTEM IN YOUR HOME

Kitchen Conveniences That Make For Order and Efficiency

CHAFING DISH.

"WHEN you try to give advice to some people they are apt to refer to the old saying about pulling the mote out of your own eye," said a good housekeeper recently. "That is why I have always been so chary of advice. Not long ago, however, a newly married friend came to spend the day with me. She remarked upon the easy way in which my household was run."

"So smoothly your house seems to run, my dear," she said sorrowfully. "All your meals are served on time. Your rooms are always neat and clean; your maid is well trained. In fact, you have in your house just what is lacking in mine."

"And shall I tell you what that is?"

GLASSWARE, MAYONNAISE MIXER AND TOAST RACK.

I asked my faithful and almost dependent friend,

"It is System, dear—and please spell it."

It with a big S, for there is nothing more important in running a household.

The average housewife when she starts into the business of running a home—for a business it is—is apt to look too lightly on the task that is before her. She starts in a very enthusiastic fashion. She plans this and that, but in a little while the plans lapse, and before long, instead of the wife being the master of the house, the house masters her, and things run anyhow.

"But," said the visitor, "you seem so capable. Everything comes quite naturally to you. With me all my plans go wrong. Meals are late, rooms are not cleaned out when they should be and—"

"Exactly," I answered. "In other words, your house has mastered you. Now reverse the process. Draw up a schedule and see that it is kept. Allot certain days for certain duties. Don't put off for tomorrow what should be done today. Have a place for everything and see that everything is in its place.

"Have a proper day," I went on, "for paying the butcher, grocer and baker. Have a day for cleaning the dining room and all the other rooms."

"Now, this penitent little bride wanted me to make out a schedule for her, but this was impossible. What might be just the thing in a household would prove utterly unfit in the other. The best way is for each housewife to work out her own homemaking salvation."

"And it is all so simple. Start well and keep on steadily is the secret of success. Use common sense and don't work harder than necessary. Let each day be taken up with its duties. Try to look upon household work as a pleasure, but do not forget that in reality it is a business. And don't forget the advice given to the young housekeeper—that the whole scheme is governed by System spelled with a big S, because it is important."

Many housewives find that a little blank book with a pencil attached is one of the most useful devices that they can install in the kitchen. A small rack with four hooks on it, attached to the wall, from which four little books may be suspended, is a real necessity in some households. In one book a record of all business transactions is kept; in another the list of articles needed in the kitchen and those to be ordered from the grocery store or market; in the third the menus as planned for the week's meals are set down; in the fourth the outline of work for the week is given.

If it is necessary for the housewife to cut down expenses she has a sure and certain guide in the menus that she has made out and the expenses she has recorded. She can by comparing the two gauge the cost of each meal, even of each dish, and substitute a more economical dish, but one that has as much food value as the more expensive food.

These two books will be splendid guides in discovering where the leaks in the family income are. If there is a servant who is wasteful, the very articles that she wastes can be pointed out to her, and the record is indisputable.

If there are children in the home they will think it great sport being called into the family council and asked to write out a little plan of the things that they would like to do to help mother every week.

In this way the housewives may make a real delight out of what otherwise would be a hard task to the child and make voluntary what otherwise would be obligatory.

Illustrated are some of the very newest devices that help to make the task of housekeeping a pleasure rather than a commonplace work. The new glass mayonnaise mixer with the drip, wheel and bowl all in one is exceedingly useful. There is no possibility of failure in one's dressing when this mixer is used. Another cut shows a new copper chafing dish with vessel of porcelain.

The toast rack and egg service of bright nickel with six egg cups and a salt bowl of blue ware is both attractive and handy. Attached to the rack is also a glass dish to accommodate toast.

Every up to date housewife is especially careful about her glassware. Illustrated are the newest styles in glasses for all occasions. They are in colors which is the fad at present. They have entirely superseded cut glass in popular favor.

DAPHNE DEAN.

FIVE DON'TS FOR THE BUSINESS GIRL.

DON'T think when your employer cannot see you that there is no need to work.

DON'T sit with one eye on the clock and the other eye on your work. You will not be able to see either properly.

DON'T let the idea get into your head that you are indispensable. Only one person is that, and he is your employer.

DON'T tell any one outside the office what you have heard in it during the day. This is one of the difficulties of the home nurse, but she must make up her mind at the outset to be firm and to carry out religiously the rules for the sickroom drawn up by the doctor in charge.

Never forget that a great amount of consideration is necessary. Do not let the patient be worried by the calling of friends. Of course he should be allowed to see any one he particularly calls for, but the visitor should be previously warned to talk as little as possible and not to mention subjects which may cause the patient to become excited.

Never allow a visitor to the sickroom to sit on the bed. There is nothing more irritating to the patient, unless it is, perhaps, the creaking of shoes or the talking in whispers. Whistling is especially annoying, for the patient constantly wonders what is being said about him.

A comfortable bed is most essential. When the patient is too ill to be taken out of bed it must necessarily be made while he is in it. There is a certain knack in this which should be learned from a trained nurse. Pay strict attention to the patient's toilet. Be very careful with such things as hot water bottles, seeing that they are always covered with flannel. Neglect in this direction has often resulted in serious and painful burns.

During convalescence it is often difficult to induce the patient to take his food, and a great deal of coaxing and tact may be necessary. You must be firm also and see that the nourishment is taken, for upon the amount the patient is able to take depends his recovery.

Try to vary the food as much as possible. Be careful also that it is the best of its kind, well cooked and daintily served. Let the glass be bright and shining and the cutlery well polished. A vase of fresh flowers put on the tray serves to give the meal an appetizing appearance.

Never put too much food on an invalid's tray, for this will only serve to turn him against it. When the meal is finished take the tray at once from the sickroom. Never under any circumstances leave old scraps of food in the sickroom.

COAT FOR LITTLE LASS

BLACK VELVET SMARTNESS.

PEGTOP coats are the very newest for the little lass and illustrated is a charming model developed in black velvet. The hem is gracefully draped and draws in at the knees.

To relieve the somber effect of all black white Irish crochet collar and cuffs are added.

HOW THE WIND OF FASHION BLOWS.

RUSSET brown, bronze gray, forest-green and mahogany are modish colors of the season. They are particularly becoming to girls with reddish brown hair and bright complexions.

There is a decided fancy for sets of everything—the gown, scarf, muff and turban matching. Fur hats with a crown of animal pelt or a band of trimming are preferred to those fashioned entirely of fur.

Hints For Afternoon Tea Hostess

THE English custom of drinking tea at 5 o'clock in the afternoon has taken a firm hold in recent years in this country, and the house mother who can offer to her friends a fragrant cup of tea with some dainty sweet is always popular.

Among hostesses who like to give an individual touch to their tea there is a fad just now to flavor the beverage with cranberry.

This is secured by rubbing lump sugar over the surface of fresh orange peel until it absorbs some of the oil in the peel, then tucking it away in airtight jars until needed.

Lemon as a tea flavor has many admirers. An addition to the lemon is to stick three or four whole cloves into each slice, first cutting the slice into fancy shapes.

Some hostesses are serving at their 5 o'clocks candied cherries in the cup of tea, and candied pineapple, cut in small, fancy shapes, is still another tea accompaniment.

There are, too, this season a number of novelties in crackers for serving with tea. The usual unsweetened cracker is spread with some kind of homemade marmalade, but souffled

JAUNTY AND YOUTHFUL

BROWN corduroy is the material from which this costume is developed. The short, jaunty coat is edged with braid, and the little vest is of velvet.

OF BROWN CORDUROY.

Get embroidered in dull red. It is a jaunty and decidedly youthful costume for semi-season wear.

NO ESCAPING THE TANGO.

ALL the world is "tangoing," and the fact has brought home forcibly to designers and dressmakers that this dance has wrought a complete revolution in smart afternoon and evening fashions.

To dance the tango with grace and elegance it is absolutely necessary that one should wear a suitable dress, for several of the steps when taken in a tight hobbie skirt become ridiculous. Quite the newest tango frocks have skirts which open at the back to show a frou-frou petticoat, though a skirt slit up at the hem front is the more usual method of providing for this extra grace of movement, but an opening somewhere there must be with the slim, straight silhouettes now in vogue.

Plated nines is very often used for the petticoat, but a lace underskirt does equally well. The waist of this dance frock must be sufficiently easy to give full play for arm motion, as in some of the figures the arm is raised high over the head.

The feet, of course, are in great evidence, so extreme care must be exercised in the selection of slippers and stockings. Lace hose are the latest fancy, but the average girl is quite content with silk hosiery which matches her frock.

Many devotees of the dance wear laced satin bottines exactly like those worn in babyland. Smart brocade and satin shoes which frequently have heels of some contrasting color are worn.

Those who go in seriously for the dance need two gowns, one a pretty, cool frock for tango teas and the other costume for evening tango parties.

PINEAPPLE WHIP.

SOAK one-half pound marshmallows (cut into quarters) in one pint of grated pineapple overnight. Next day add to this mixture one cup of whipped cream. Serve very cold.

SHORT TALKS ON BABY LOGY

Article No. 5—Feeding the Baby

BABIES are born hungry, says Anna Steese Richardson in the Woman's Home Companion. The time to start a baby in regular habits of feeding is the day of its birth. The newborn baby should be nursed every two hours from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. and once during the night at 2 a. m. Within a week, if the baby is normal, the mother should begin nursing it only once in three hours between 6 a. m. and 9 p. m., with the extra nursing at 2 a. m.

This means seven feedings in twenty-four hours. At four months, if the baby shows a normal gain in size and strength, he should not be nursed between 9 p. m. and 6 a. m., but should be sleeping soundly. Between 6 a. m. and 9 p. m. he will now have six feedings, and this schedule should be maintained until he is a year old.

Many mothers ask whether the baby should be awakened to be fed. Physicians seem to agree that a baby should never be awakened at night to nurse and that the healthy baby will wake of its own accord to be fed once in three hours during the day. There are rare exceptions to this rule. For example, when a mother has fed the child irregularly from birth it sometimes turns night into day, sleeping by day and fretting for food by night. If the child is healthy, normal in every way, then it must be retrained to waken during the day for nursing and to sleep by night without nursing. This very example shows the importance of starting the feeding habits right from birth by not nursing more than once during the night.

Another question asked by many mothers who are nursing their babies is, "May I mix the baby's food, giving him an occasional bottle?"

Doctors agree that the answer is governed by conditions. Sometimes the mother's milk is not sufficiently nourishing. In that case, under the direction of the family doctor, bottle and breast milk may be alternated. In this way the baby is gently prepared for weaning. Again, in certain families it may be necessary or advisable for the mother to have a certain amount of freedom from her duty of nursing the baby. The mother's milk will still provide certain elements which baby's system demands, and the bottle may be alternated with breast feeding, always with a doctor advising as to the food in the bottle.

The scientific and successful raising of a baby on the bottle depends upon two distinct lines of care and caution—the selection of the food to be supplied and the care of the bottles. The best of food in an insanitary bottle or drawn through an unclean nipple becomes dangerous to baby's health.

In choosing artificial food for your baby remember that even physicians differ on this question. Many eminent American specialists for children insist that fresh cow's milk properly modified is the only substitute for mother's milk. Foreign authorities recommend goat's milk. And there are other recognized authorities on baby health who have found it advisable to prescribe for delicate bottle-fed babies a combination of milk and patent food. Not only must the mother consult her family physician on this question, but with the physician she must watch the effect of the food chosen on the baby.

The bowels are a sure indication of the way in which the bottle diet agrees or disagrees with the baby. When the passage is hard and bullet-like, when it shows curds or white lumps like cheese, or when mucus is present (a slimy phlegm), or there is diarrhea, the mother may be sure that the food does not agree with her baby and the doctor should be consulted immediately.

No medicine should be given in such cases without consulting a doctor. What the baby needs is not dosing, but the right sort of food, the food its stomach will digest.

Vegetables For Cold Days I

CURRIED lentils make one of the most nutritious vegetable dishes one could imagine, and to this may be added the greater attraction of cheapness. For curried lentils wash and soak three or four good sized table-spoonfuls of lentils overnight and in the morning boil them in enough slightly salted water to well cover and cook them until tender, but not broken. Strain off the liquor carefully (reserving this as a foundation for vegetable stock). Fry a good sized onion cut into rings in one ounce of well clarified dripping. Fry in the same pan half a teaspoonful of mild curry powder for a minute or two; then add three peeled and sliced tomatoes and a heaped teaspoonful of rice flour, a teaspoonful of curry paste and a pint of stock.

Add the liquor slowly, stirring it all the time to keep it smooth; then stir in the lentils carefully with a teaspoonful of sugar, the juice of half a lemon and one ounce of butter and let it all stew together till quite thick. Serve in a wall of well boiled rice.

Potato Dumplings.—Peel eight large boiled potatoes, chop up finely four ounces of suet freed from skin, etc., or use dripping. Mash the potatoes free from lumps and add to them the suet, moistening it if necessary with a little milk or water, but be careful not to make it too moist. It should be rather dry. Add as much flour as the potatoes will take up (about one pound), and when it is all incorporated roll into a ball, tie it up in a pudding cloth and boil for four hours, adding more water as that in the pan boils away and serve with the following sauce:

Sauce.—Take four or five medium sized onions, put them in a pan with cold water and boil until tender; then chop up finely. Meantime melt two ounces of well clarified dripping in a pan over the fire and add to it one ounce of flour, and when thoroughly blended moisten with half a pint of warm water or stock if at hand, add gradually, and when it is all added let the sauce boil for three minutes, keeping it stirring all the time, add salt to taste and the chopped up onions. Rub through a sieve if liked and serve very hot.

A KITCHENETTE.

INSTEAD of tapes on the corners of the kitchen towels try working a large eyelet in each corner. Make the eyelets large enough to accommodate the hook on which they must hang and they will be found more convenient and lasting than the tapes.

THE TWO SKIRTED SUIT

THERE is growing talk of the suit that comes with a second skirt attached, usually of a different material—a plaid, for instance. This is a logical development of fashion. Indeed, one might wonder why it did not come sooner. Men's and boys' suits come with two separate pairs of trousers, a man's tailor having recognized long ago that the coat was the last part of a suit to wear out.

Two skirts to one coat double the life of a suit and lend variety in dressing. One skirt usually is a plaid, toning in with the general color scheme. The other skirt is of the coat material.

The plaid skirt gives that novel "compose" effect seen on high priced tailor-made. A woman who wants to get the smart effect can do so by wearing the coat of an ordinary suit and by having a separate plaid skirt made.

VEIL WITH THREE USES.

AMONG new frills is a veil which serves three purposes. It is at once a veil, a neck ruff and a ruffle for the hat. This extraordinary accessory is black net for the face veil, and the double ruffles added at the top and at the lower edge, which is drawn against the throat, are made of tan colors.

ARTISTIC TO A DEGREE

MODEL IN PANNE VELVET.

PANNE velvet combined with malines and taffeta is used to produce this very artistic gown. The shawl fabric of embroidered satin is edged with fur.

HOW TO USE BANANAS

FOR banana sponge peel six ripe bananas and mash the pulp. Add four ounces of sugar, the juice of a lemon and an ounce of gelatin dissolved in three cupfuls of water and stir the mixture over the fire for a few minutes. Let it cool, and when it is nearly set add the whites of two eggs beaten stiff. Pour in a mold. Serve with cream whipped or unwhipped.

Bananas make a good substitute for vegetables. They should, however, be served in place of potatoes or some other starchy vegetable and should be accompanied or followed by a green vegetable or salad. One way to cook them when they are to take the place of a vegetable is to bake them in some of the banana growing countries they are baked in the ashes in their own skins until they burst open. A better way in this country is to remove one section of the peel, free the pulp from the rest of the skin and return it whole, cover it with the section peeled off and bake in the oven until the skin is charred and the pulp soft all the way through. The pulp should then be carefully removed from the skin to the hot dish and served with butter and salt and pepper or with an unsweetened sauce—for instance, butter with a little lemon juice or a tablespoonful of sherry added just before it is poured over the bananas.

TULLE SASHES.

TULLE sashes are made with beaded ends. One, of black and white tulle used together, has a deep beaded ornament on the end, made of beads of gray, green and silver. The ornament ends in a long bead fringe. Sometimes pink and white, blue and white, black and green and other color combinations of tulle are used, and harmonizing beaded ornaments are used with them.

The Hail Question

The hail insurance, as set forth at the recent meeting of the reeves of 23 municipalities, which was held in Edmonton, seems to be all for the benefit of the farmers.
Briefly outlined, the scheme is that, instead of paying 50c per acre, as in the case of insuring with a private company and receiving the sum of $8, the farmer will pay 3c per acre for $6 insurance, in taxes, the taxes to be levied against all the land in the municipalities, whether cultivated or not so long as it is assessable. The exact rate has not been struck, but if the board's estimate does not prove sufficient, the municipality is empowered to borrow the deficit, by which we suppose it is meant that each municipality, having lost through hail, greater than can be covered by the tax, such municipality can borrow, but as to whether they will borrow from the main insurance fund, covering other other districts, is't clear.

It appears that the act is to operate over the whole of the province as one field, and there are opinions to the effect that it would be better if each municipality were run separately. True, the argument that one district has more hail than another, has held ever since this was a country some districts catching a great percentage of hail while a neighboring district is practically immune. On account of these conditions it would appear that the making of the province one field, as far as the insurance goes, is the better plan, since it is obvious that on such a low figure as 3c per acre a well hailed district would soon reach the limit of its insurance while not covering the claims. But the act is in the experimental stage until it has been given a trial, and although the principals are good, time is required to see how it will work. The hopes regarding this province are that the older it gets, the more the farmer may go in for the stock end of farming, raising his grain for feed, than it would not so much matter if he does get a little hail or frosted grain.

Too Many in the Cities

Sam Robinson, a leading Manchester, Eng. trades unionist, went home to the Old Country the other day and told folks there that Canada was a bully place, but he had one fault to find. Too many immigrants, he said, were being dumped into the big, over-crowded Canadian cities.
The natural inference is that Canada needs a greater rural population, and Mr. Robinson takes care to leave the impression that the country is the place for our in-coming population. We most heartily agree with the gentleman from Manchester. He hit the nail on the head the first time. Canada is and will be for the next generation or two, essentially and agricultural country. We have more than a faint recollection of having voiced this opinion before, but it will bear repeating. Until Canada's agricultural and other natural wealth is developed to a much greater degree than at present, we do not see the prosperity we have a right to expect.

Pat Burns, Alberta's millionaire cattle king, said the same thing in slightly different fashion at Calgary the other day. He said: "Tell the people to go out on the land and raise the produce. I will buy it from them. Then I won't have to be shipping meat and butter from New Zealand to supply the demand. What we need for prosperity in this country is to get the people on the land and have them producing something."

So Mr. Robinson and Mr. Burns agree although one is a stranger in Canada and the other is one of its outstanding successes.—Lethbridge Herald.

Who Wouldn't be an Indian

A Cardston item says: When a Cardstonite gives a Blood Indian and his squaw a cup of tea at the back door, he doesn't stop to think that he is entertaining representatives of the wealthiest people in Canada, and that their wealth is only exceeded by one other group of people in the whole world. The average per capita wealth of the people of the world is about $10; of the people of the United States about $1400; of the Osage Indians in Kansas, U. S., about $8612; and of the Blackfoot tribe, whose home is in Southern Alberta, $7536.

Furthermore it can be seen from the last report of the Department of Indian Affairs from Ottawa, that if you put the wealth of the Blood, Blackfoot and Peigan bands, which make up the Blackfoot confederacy in Canada, into the hands of all males over 16 years of age, the per capita wealth would soar up to $13,322. And again if as is really the case on the reserves referred to, the wealth of the reserves was confined to heads of families or all males between the ages of 20 and 65, the nice fortune of $16,445 would be credited to each.

Water and Sewage Problem Is Bothering Town FathersMAYOR BRAY BROUGHT FORWARD A MATTER OF VITAL IMPORTANCE TO GLEICHEN'S FUTURE

The regular semi-monthly session of the Gleichen town council was held last Friday evening. The mayor and all the councillors were present.

Although no business of any great moment was transacted, several important matters were up for consideration. Foremost of these was the water and sewage question. Mayor Bray, introducing the matter, said that there had been considerable talk around town and in former council meetings were up for consideration. He gave it as his opinion that such should not be done until the present sewage could be better disposed of. The sewer empties into a tank across the C. P. R. tracks, and in summer months the stench is a disgrace to Gleichen. The authorities of the Indian reserve had made complaint several times, as had also many residents of the east end of town. A discussion followed. There was some talk of a septic tank, by which method Bassano has settled her sewage problem, and it is probable that some of the councillors will make a trip to the neighboring town to look over their system. In the meantime the Public Works committee was instructed to inspect the present sewage outlet.

Town Sec. MacLean reported that the town auditor wished to know how much depreciation to allow on the water and sewage system. 1% on the $10,000 was regarded as sufficient.

A. H. Spurr was appointed auditor for 1914. $60 will be the fee. W. H. McKie will again serve as assessor, the office carrying a remuneration of $125.

A bill was presented for the labor of three Weddell boys on the night of the Beupre fire for $15, they having watched the blazing debris all night. The bill was referred to the Fire Chief for his o.k.

Jas. Gibson, manager of the hockey team, and J. B. Leggatt, president of the rink company, waited on the council with the request that no charge be made for water to flood the rink the remainder of the season. The matter was referred to the Public Works committee with authority to act.

The Day of Wonders Is Not Past

The biggest wonder in Bow Valley is the Pulling Power of want ads. Work secured, seed grain sold, lost stock recovered, houses rented—and so on without end, are the many uses to which they are put. Not long ago C. F. Bruce of Cluny lost a valuable robe, so he bought this want ad:

LOST—BLUE AND YELLOW Check horse rug, CFB sewn on quarters. Reward given for information leading to recovery.—C. F. Bruce, Cluny.

Fred Jones saw the ad, called up the Call office on the phone that he had found the lost article, and we notified Mr. Bruce.

Through The Call Mr. Jones secured a reward, and Mr. Bruce has found his robe. Got the idea?

You can own one of these little ads for $1 per month. Do it!

KILLED A BIG ONE

One of the largest coyotes killed hereabouts for years, was on exhibition in the Gleichen Trading Co. window last week. Its head was 12 inches long and the measurement from tail to snout was 56 inches. H. Batty was the mighty hunter who slew it, having Bollinger's bounds. B. S. Corey has purchased the pelt and is having it made into a rug.

The hockey game with Brooks last Friday evening was called off, as the warm weather had melted the ice.

THE WEEKLY SUN
AND FREE FOOD

Believes Free Food Would be Against Farmers' and Consumers' Interests

"How is the Eastern farmer to fare if the new cry for the abolition of the Canadian duties on all kinds of food should prevail?" enquires the Weekly Sun. "When reciprocity was advocated in 1911 it was maintained that notwithstanding our duties on his various products, the Canadian farmer got less for them in the home market than he would get if they were admitted free to the United States. This was the cardinal plea for reciprocity. But now it is asserted in effect that, speaking generally, the cost of living is higher on this side of the line than on the other, and they would repeal the Canadian duties on food of every sort in order to afford relief to the artisan and other wage-earners. It is obvious, however, that if they reduced the home price of food they would damage the farmer's interests. And how could Ontario supply fruits, canned goods, meats and dairy produce to the West if those commodities were allowed to be free from the neighboring States? The orator who addresses himself to this subject employs a variety of sophistical arguments that puzzle the audience and probably himself as well. "Everyone knows that, in the face of the existing Canadian duties, the West is importing increasing quantities of butter, pork, poultry, vegetables, raw fruit, canned fruit and canned meats from the States. The American producer has the advantage of geography over the producer in Old Canada as well as in most cases of climate; in addition to which his canneries and packing houses do a far larger business than ours, and as a rule turn out cheaper goods for that reason. It is not necessary to labor the point that if our duties were removed the co-operative movement outlined by the Sun would come to grief."

The attitude of such a well known farm paper should cause every Canadian to consider carefully where he stands on this important question. It should always be borne in mind that it is much easier to tear down than build up. Once we take our food duties off and allow American food products to be dumped into Canada free of duty whenever it suits the American food producer to ship into our market, we would build up interests which would make it next to impossible to shut them out again.

TELL HOW TO KEEP THE MONEY AT HOME

A Western Company's Advice to the Farmers of Saskatchewan

With the rapid development of industrial centres in Saskatchewan and other Western Provinces, the time is coming when the Western farmer will have all he can do to cater to the home market demand.

"A great opportunity is here and we trust you will make your best effort to meet it," says the Saskatchewan Creamery Company, Limited, in a circular to the farmers of Saskatchewan. "The cold season is approaching, when the supply of cream will decrease. There are large quantities of outside butter being sold in the Province to-day, because the demand is greater than the local production. We trust you will feed your cows liberally and produce a large amount of cream, so that you can ship frequently and help keep the money at home, that is now being sent to other parts of the world."

PRICES IN 1841

Toronto Globe on High Cost of Living
Seventy Years Ago

According to the Toronto Globe factory cotton sold for 17 cents a yard in 1841 when there was no duty on it. To-day it costs on the average less than 10 cents, some qualities selling as low as 5 cents. It seems evident therefore that the policy of encouragement to home industry which has built up vast cotton factories in Canada has done so without burdening the consumer.

FOREST FIRE LOSSES, 1913

Dominion Forestry Branch Reports a Remarkably Small Loss

The lowest level of forest loss on record in Canada was reached this year on Dominion Forest Reserves in Western Canada. From the first of April to the end of September several of these reserves escaped without a single fire over ten acres in extent, the small fires that did occur being extinguished by the rangers before occasioning any damage to standing timber. On the Rocky Mountains Forest Reserve, which has an area of 13,378,856 acres, the fire-loss amounted to but 1,150 acres of young timber of only potential value and $150 worth of mature timber. The total area burnt over, more than half of which was cut-over or grass land, was but 3,010 acres, representing only 0.02 per cent of the area of this reserve. On the Dominion Forest reserves in British Columbia which have a total area of 2,420,480 acres not a single fire succeeded in spreading over a larger area than ten acres, and the only green timber injured by fire was four acres of young lodgepole pine. The records are not yet complete for Saskatchewan and Manitoba, but the available figures compare favorably with the ones cited. The above figures also compare favorably with corresponding ones on the National Forests of the United States, where the area burned in 1913, although the smallest in recent years, was somewhat over 0.03 per cent of the total reserved area.

In the Fire Districts on Dominion Crown Lands in the west patrolled by Dominion fire rangers the loss occasioned by forest fires last season is also remarkably small, nor is this due wholly to the large amount of rain which fell last summer in the west, for there were also several dry spells when frequent fires occurred, which only the alertness of the fire-rangers prevented from occasioning large losses. In the Coast Range District, B.C., which being situated in the Railway Belt is administered by the Dominion Forestry Branch, during June and July and August no less than 110 fires occurred, yet all of these fires were extinguished by the fire-rangers before any standing timber was destroyed.

Patience and perseverance will accomplish all things, was a favorite saying of an old miller. He had just made this remark in a train one day on the way to market, when a pompous individual in the corner turned to him crossly and said:

Nonsense, sir, I can tell you a great many things which neither patience nor perseverance can accomplish.

Perhaps you can, said the miller, but I have never yet come across one thing.

Well, then, I'll tell you one. Will patience and perseverance ever enable you to carry water in a sieve?

Certainly.

I would like to know how.

Simply by waiting patiently for the water to freeze.

DOCTOR SAID HE HAD DIABETES

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CLEARED OUT EVERY TRACE OF IT

That's Why Mr. David Heon, of Nicolet Co., Quebec, is Recommending the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy To His Neighbors.

St. Wenceslas, Nicolet Co., Que. (Special)—"I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills because the doctor told me I was threatened with diabetes. After taking ten boxes I was again examined by the doctor, and he told me that all trace of diabetes had disappeared."

This is the statement of Mr. David Heon, well known and highly respected in his neighborhood who have found a new lease of life in the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy. It is curious such as this that have given Dodd's Kidney Pills their reputation. They are now known from the Atlantic to the Pacific as the remedy that never fails to cure kidney disease, no matter where or in what form it is found.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure diseased kidneys. The reason they cure backache, dropsy, rheumatism, neuralgia, diabetes, urinary troubles and Bright's Disease is that all of these are either diseases of the kidney or are caused by diseased kidneys, a failing to do their work.

Slump in Turtle Soup

Until recently it was customary to divide the turtle soup which was unconsumed at the lord mayor's banquet in London among the poor on the following day, but experience showed that its value was unappreciated by the recipients, and that half the soup was poured into the Guildhall yard within a quarter of an hour of the distribution.

When the soup was last distributed its value was estimated at $300, but as its merits were lost on the poor recipients, the lord mayor and sheriff's committee decided to substitute cooked joints.

In accordance with a custom which has been observed for centuries, the provisions that remained after the banquet were distributed recently to about 150 poor people. The work of distribution was undertaken by the members of the committee, who, wearing white aprons, took their places before the tables, which were laden with mutton pies, beef, partridges, and lobster. Each person who presented himself received a substantial share of the food.

Control of Municipal Finance

Would be of Assistance to Government

The commission would doubt render the Government invaluable service in the framing of legislation dealing with the municipalities already enumerated, and undoubtedly the present acts would, following the appointment of this commission, immediately undergo a thorough examination. We have already taken the liberty of pointing out wherein certain changes might be made, and add the following suggestions:

According to the annual report of the Department of Municipal Affairs for the financial year 1912-13, there were at the close of February last, two hundred and forty-eight villages in existence. One hundred is the minimum population required for a village, twenty-five of whom must be male adults. It may interest you to know that fifteen of these had at that time a population of seventy-five or less, and a further fifteen had less than one hundred population. Over one hundred out of the two hundred and forty-eight villages have a population of less than two hundred souls. We believe the minimum required for incorporation should be raised to two hundred, fifty of whom should be male adults.

The debenture of the village of seventy-five people is hard to market. The tiny population and the small assessment are the two chief reasons for their unpopularity, among investors. By increasing the population qualification you would do much to raise the standard of this interest you to the municipalities below. Two hundred population might well continue as hamlets under the care of the Department of Municipal Affairs, with a borrowing power perhaps equal to that allowed under the old Village Act. It might not be wise to make this legislation retroactive.

Prohibit Granting Bonuses

Permission to issue debentures for the purpose of granting bonuses to manufacturers, flour mills, etc., should not be granted under any circumstances. This is a pernicious practice and it is almost always entered into by reason of purely local optimism or in a spirit of rivalry. We were advised recently by an American citizen who has travelled extensively throughout every State in the Union, that there are many cities, residents of the Western States of America, who are today taxed to pay debts originally created to foster industries brought into existence by unscrupulous promoters, who cared nothing for the communities in which they were for the time being operated. The only physical evidence of these industries or works having existed, is furnished by the deserted and decaying structures and silent, rusting machinery. Most of the cities in the Republic to the south of us have legislated against such bonuses, and we would like to see our Province do likewise.

Such a commission should have power to hear all assessment appeals from the Court of Revision as at present constituted. This would go a long way toward eliminating inflated values. It should have power to regulate or prevent the inclusion of outlying lands within the limits of cities or towns. Such a restriction would be welcomed by many who feel that this would mitigate the subdivision evil to a very large extent.

Single Tax

We do not think it would be expedient to remove the matter of assessment from the jurisdiction of municipal bodies, but we believe the commission would be able to advise and render municipalities considerable assistance in this regard. While the law is explicit in this respect it is a fact that there is much room for improvement. Many feel that the tendency of municipalities of the so-called single tax system, by which is meant taxation of land value only. The adoption of such a system should be gradual, and it is believed by many that the taxation of land values only would tend to greater uniformity in taxation throughout the Province.

We believe such a commission would advocate the enactment of legislation, making it illegal for certain municipalities to issue straight term debentures. Villages and small towns should repay their bond indebtedness either by equal annual instalments of principal or by the annuity method, which provides for payment by equal annual instalments of principal and interest during the life of the loan, and is to say, the payments made in the first year would be equal to that made for any other annual date of the loan. The latter plan would permit of coupons for interest only being attached; a feature sometimes desired by investors.

The commission should have power to administer a sinking fund committee separate entirely from its Council. In some of the older Provinces we believe sinking funds were not provided as they should have been which has to some extent hurt the market for straight term bonds of small municipalities.

Section 184 of the Town Act reads as follows: Every town may, subject to the following provisions, pass bylaws for contracting debts to a greater extent than 10 per cent of the rateable property in the town, except as provided in Section 48 of the Municipal Public Works Act.

Therefore, the Municipal Public Works Act of 1906 should be read in conjunction with the City and Town Acts. It provisions are in part as follows:

Certain cities and all towns may borrow money for the purpose of constructing or acquiring water works, sewers, lighting, heating, and power works, in which case the money borrowed is a special charge upon the works and is not counted as a diminution of the powers of the municipality; to borrow money under the City or Town Act. From this you will see that it is quite possible for a town to contract debts to a far greater extent than 10 per cent of the rateable property. Under this Act debentures issued for public works may extend over a period of fifty years and may be payable in such a manner that for the first five years succeeding their issue date interest only shall be payable. Our impression is that following the appointment of such a commission its members would give early consideration to the privileges granted municipalities under this Municipal Public Works Act of 1906 and would most likely recommend that it be repealed.

Snake Fascinated by Cat

It is stated that the cat has hypnotic power over snakes. A gentleman who had lived forty-six years in India told me that a life had been twice saved by his cat. On one occasion he walked on to the verandah and actually trod on a cobra that was sitting up ready to strike. He expected every moment to feel the deadly fangs and wondered why it delayed, when, looking round, he noticed his cat crouching and gazing at the reptile steadily with mesmeric effect, for it seemed unable to move, and while it was in this condition he killed it. Another time, when sleeping on an open cot in the verandah, he woke to find on one side of the bed a huge cobra with head erect ready to strike, on the other the glistering green eyes of his cat. The snake reared up still, so he ran into the room to fetch a gun, and coming back poked the reptile's head with the barrels, but it did not seem to take the slightest notice and seemed like a stuffer and lifeless creature. He then placed his hand in front of the cat's eyes by way of experiment, when immediately the spell was removed, the cobra reared itself, hissed, and assumed an offensive attitude. He then took his hand away and the reptile became transfixed again, in which state it was shot.

Little Willie was playing one day with the girl next door, when the latter exclaimed:

Don't you hear your mother calling you? That's three times she's done it. Aren't you going in? Won't she whip you?

Naw! exclaimed Willie in disgust. She ain't going to whip nobody. She's got company. So when I go in she'll just say: The poor little man has been so deaf since he's had the measles.

Concrete Grain Elevators

Are the best grain insurance that you can have against fire or damage of any sort. They are proof against rodents that gnaw their way into ordinary buildings and carry away the farmer's profits. They save storage charges by enabling you to store your own grain until you can obtain better prices.

Elevators built of concrete maintain a dry, even temperature. They cannot rot, rust or burn and require no repairs or paint—in short, they are the cheapest kind of elevators the grain farmer can build.

Let us send you the free book "What the Farmer can do with Concrete". It tells all about concrete farm buildings and how to build them, and about dozens of other things that the farmer can build of concrete.

WINDMILL POINT ELEVATOR, MONTREAL.

While the Grand Trunk has been looking well to the matter of elevator construction in Western Canada to provide storage capacity for the ever-increasing grain crop, provision has also been made for shipping facilities at Montreal. In the spring of 1906 what is known as the Windmill Point Elevator, located in the busy harbor of Montreal, was completed and put into operation. Its capacity was 1,080,000 bushels. Its situation is so well planned that it is easily accessible to both lake or ocean vessels, with railway tracks alongside. To provide additional accommodation a large annex has just been completed, with a capacity of 1,070,000 bushels, making a net capacity of 2,150,000 bushels. There are in this new building 28 concrete tanks, 25 feet in diameter and 100 feet in height, arranged at right angles in four rows, with seven tanks in each row. The tanks are constructed of reinforced concrete, having their adjacent sides rigidly united, so that the four-pointed, star-shaped spaces between the circular tanks may be used for storage as well as the circular tanks themselves. The large tanks hold approximately 33,000 bushels apiece, and the star-shaped or interstice bins hold approximately 8,000 bushels each. It is the second largest grain bin on the Grand Trunk System, the largest being located at Fort William, with a capacity of 5,700,000 bushels.

Ouelletteville Holds Special School Meeting

Since New Year's Many Card Parties and Dances Have Taken Place. An Unfortunate Mishap

Now that you have an assurance that Cluny is still on the map, you might be interested to know that Ouelletteville is still in evidence, and the reason you have not had any news from us lately is because we have all been too busy attending dances and card parties. Since the beginning of the new year a spirit of hospitality and good fellowship has prevailed all over the French Colony and there is not a house that has not contributed, either with a dance, or a card party, to the general spirit of entertainment that prevails. Joe Carbiel and Wilfred Gibeau are the joint masters of ceremonies at the dances and as there is no lack of young ladies, the young people have been having some very good times. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Renaud entertained the residents of the colony to a St. Valentines dance on the 13th, and all those who wended their way home in the early hours of the morning of the 14th, reported that they had spent a most enjoyable time.

Much sympathy is felt towards the relatives of Mrs. Marcel, daughter of Madam Gibeau, who is very ill at St. Johns, N. B. and it is hoped that better news of her condition will soon be forthcoming.

Willie Coates met with an accident at the C. P. I. D. quarters, and nearly lost his nose, being bitten by a dog that he was playing with, but he is progressing favorably and his parents are hoping that his beauty will not be permanently affected.

A special meeting of ratepayers of Wheatfield School District took place at the school house on Saturday, 21st. There was a full attendance of ratepayers and matters were brought forward affecting the business of the school from 1910 until the present time. After receiving a report from the trustees and an explanation of the accounts from the secretary-treasurer, the meeting accorded a vote of thanks to Mr. M. White, W. H. Coates and A. Olmes as representing the Board of Trustees and a special vote of thanks and confidence was accorded Mr. W. Boyden, secretary-treasurer, for able and economical manner in which he has carried on the affairs of the school during the last four years.

The Firemen's dance last Friday evening proved a most enjoyable affair, and all who attended expressed themselves as highly pleased with the excellent manner in which Chief Marshall and his brigade entertained them. However, we understand it was not a financial success and that there was a lack of attendance of men who should have patronized the worthy efforts of the boys.

Advertising Does Not Pay

- It does not pay the slaves of precedent.
- It does not pay the merchant who advertises once—and then quits.
- It does not pay the merchant who expects advertising to take the place of honesty.
- It does not pay the merchant whose printed statements misrepresent his goods or his prices.
- It does not pay the merchant who claims to be "too small to advertise"—and wants to stay that way.
- It does not pay the merchant who believes there are "slack seasons" when people cease to eat, drink, and wear out clothes.
- It does not pay the quitter—the crook—the faker—the stimulator. Advertising is the deadly foe of all that is bad—just as it is life and health to all that is good.
- Advertising plus dishonesty, or advertising plus poor goods and unsound business methods is death—sure and quick. The more advertising the quicker the death.
